THE CHURCHES AND THE MOVIES

The Financial Post says, Movie industry ready to work with churches. The office receipts of the movie picture industry in Canada will probably not suffer from the spread into Canada of the concerted movement of leaders in the Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish churches in the United States to force conductors and vulgar films out of theatres. In the last four months the character of films made available in the United States has been so much higher that the number of banned films by religious newspapers and other bodies has dropped to a low point. At the same time the attendance at these picture theatres are advancing. Their United States films from the improved picture, these in turn are subject to two exceptions, that of exhibiting companies before laying out that of provincial censorship boards, and therefore indicate at companies believe that moving picture theatres proprietors have little cause to worry.

TWO MORE WINNERS

Two more winners of the Nobel Prize, Sir Norman Angel and Arthur Henderson, former member of the British Labor Govt. The former for his books, strongly advocating Peace, and Mr Henderson's interesting and in the same line. Will some one explain to us why a mount on manufacturer award their Nobel Prizes to holders of Peace? We confess to being in quandary.

CARSELAND

The Nanaimo District U F A Association met in the hall on Wednesday, the 5th with a good attendance. The club from over the district, Mr Watson the vice president was in the chair. The main feature of the convention was a speech by the Hon F Lyndhurst, the Attorney General, who very ably set forth the work of the Government administration, answering charges that are being put forth by opposition speakers. Resolution passed and included one asking that only needed maintenance work be done on the highway around Carleton Place until such time as the Govt can see its way clear to put the highway directly across the lake, and also one which condemned the present financial system and suggested that financial control be vested in the government rather than in private hands. Local talent provided several musical items and readings, interspersing speeches and business. Lunch and supper were provided by the Carleton Local U F W A.

The P B Club met on Thursday at the home of Mrs Robert Grove with a good attendance enjoying the hospitality of this spacious home. A committee was formed to advise ways and means to seriously bring money on hand in meeting local requirements.

Carleland is to have a skating rink this year. Les Field has agreed to the use of a sheet of water on his place for the purpose, and contributions have been gathered for facing the rink and for labour on same. It is likely that a fair hockey team may be scratched during the season, if we have weather suitable for keeping ice in good shape.

On Tuesday the 11th the Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs Ed Sison when election of officers took place. Mrs F Howe was elected president for the coming year, Mrs Davies and Mrs Johnston, vice presidents. Mrs Don McKinnon, secretary and Mrs G B Field treasurer.

The Dalnord U F A and U F W A jointly held joint sessions on Thursday the 6th at the home of Mrs Thompson.

HERVEY NOTES

The continued good weather has brought about an optimism such as many buildings and telegraph lines from Santa.

An entertainment is being put on in the afternoon at the school by the teacher, Xmas tree, etc, also other talent. It is free to all.

Nola Gade who has been to the city for head trouble is well again. Don't mistake us it was to Calgary he was at.

Leslie Kent is dodging cupid darts these days, being more youthful than his brothers he thinks he can wade all threats.

John Taylor we are pleased to learn is improving in health every day.

TUDOR

Mr and Mrs C A Brown were Calgary visitors Saturday last.

Mr W Agate is home again from a few weeks visit with his son Dick and reports a fine time.

The nice weather we have been enjoying will go a long way to shorten up the winter and we notice that many people are taking advantage of it and are putting on storm windows and doing the little jobs around that are so miserable to do when its cold.

The second night of bridge and what was held Wednesday, Dec 12. A good time was had.

IGNORANCE

The story that David Lloyd George tells of Paschendale in the fourth volume of his War Memoirs (Little Brown & Co., 43) just published, is a damning indictment of Sir Douglas Haig and of Sir William Robertson. Haig worked for a year on his plan to clear the Flanders coast and roll the German army back out of Belgium. Persistence followed failure, at a cost of 400,000 British soldiers. Lloyd George declares that the high command had no knowledge of the ground upon which the battle was fought, nor the conditions that obtained there. The battle was planned and directed by remote control. The high command refused to believe that conditions were as bad as they were painted in reports from the field. Paschendale was one of the great crimes against valourous men in history; yet it was not alone.

BRITISH TROOPS POLICE SAAR
The announcement by Sir Anthony Eden that the British would police the Saar region caused first great surprise, then a feeling of assurance to hitherto distraught feelings, and now news despatches state greater calm pervades Europe than has existed for many months.
